

OSRAM LEDriving® Driving Lights

ECE approved

The OSRAM LEDriving® Driving Lights are fully ECE compliant for supplementary lighting functions.

The product bears the ECE test symbol that is mandatory for all approved automotive components.

They are approved according to R112 and partially R7 and may therefore be legally installed and used in Europe. Thus, there is no requirement to register the OSRAM LEDriving® Driving Lights. This does not include special requirements of individual countries on top of the standard ECE certification of the product.

A detailed register of the OSRAM LEDriving® Driving Lights and the corresponding ECE registration numbers can be found on the following pages.

Best regards

Your OSRAM Automotive Team